

WALDO DECLARES HE'LL 'BREAK' MEN ON DWYER'S SQUAD

Holly Denies Inspector Was "Jobbed" by Shadows Under Capt. Tunney.

SAYS CHARGES PILE UP.

Lawyer Newell Must Plead Guilty Before Confession, Which Is Postponed.

Police Commissioner Waldo has waxed exceedingly wroth, it was said at Headquarters today, over the published reports attributing his sudden shift of two lieutenants and ten men away from Inspector John F. Dwyer's staff and crediting to Winfield R. Sheehan, secretary to the Commissioner, the inspiration for humbling the Fourth Inspection District's head.

In this regard, Acting Capt. Tunney of the Detective Bureau in Dwyer's district shares most heartily. The published report to which Tunney had been set to shadow Dwyer at the instance of Sheehan and that it had been his men of the West Forty-seventh street Detective Bureau who had reported to Sheehan Dwyer's visit to District Attorney Whitman brought Tunney down to Headquarters early today. He asked Waldo's permission to bring suit for libel against newspapers which published these statements.

WHITMAN MAY CALL TUNNEY TO GRAND JURY.

District Attorney Whitman, on the other hand, said flatly today to-day he had heard that Acting Capt. Tunney had shadowed Dwyer on his visit to him last Wednesday night and had shadowed him away from the house after the conference. Mr. Whitman said he would summon Tunney to tell the Grand Jury why he had trailed Inspector Dwyer. It was true that such trailing was done.

"Wise" politicians said that Dwyer "has been taught a lesson" that his alleged effort to curry favor with the District Attorney and at the same time remain solid with Waldo as inspector of the Fourth District is responsible for the sudden transfer of the majority of his staff last Friday.

The Police Commissioner stands by the approval of Dwyer as an Inspector, even though he did not know that Dwyer had gone to Mr. Whitman's house until told of it later; maintains that the transfer of Dwyer's men came because of rumors not yet verified against their integrity and worth as detectives and had nothing whatever to do with Dwyer's visit to Whitman. He brands as propaganda the story that Tunney had been sent in Dwyer's district to shadow him. It was said at Headquarters today that reports concerning some of Dwyer's men had been cumulative in effect upon Waldo and that, when he heard more on Friday, he determined at once to order the transfer of twelve of Dwyer's staff.

"Mother" Stancum's testimony to the Grand Jury that she was still paying protection money to maintain a disorderly house on West Fifty-fourth street was one of the strongest pieces of evidence that moved the Commissioner to take the step he did, it was said.

The Commissioner would not give the names of the suspected detectives today, declaring that to do so before he had conclusive evidence would be laying himself open to a charge of libel, he declared, however, that he was pressing his investigation and would "break" all that were found to be guilty.

WALDO DECLARES SECRETARY KNEW NOTHING.

Secretary Sheehan did not know of the transfer of Dwyer's men until after it was ordered, was the statement at Headquarters. He was absent from Headquarters when the transfer was ordered through First Deputy Commissioner McKay.

The Commissioner characterized as "too absurd to discuss" the rumor published recently that he had been keeping District Attorney Whitman "shadowed" or that policemen had been doing that without his knowledge. He said, unequivocally, today that he would have the shield of any policeman caught trailing the District Attorney or in any way spying upon him.

The Commissioner let it be known today that no rebuke to Inspector Dwyer was implied in Lieut. "Honest Dan" Costigan's raid in the Mayfair apartments, on West Forty-seventh street Saturday night, nor was Dwyer in danger because the place existed in his district. Costigan's raid was in consonance with Waldo's policy, it was said, to have men from Headquarters do the raiding, instead of the Inspector's men.

NEWELL MUST PLEAD GUILTY BEFORE BECOMING WITNESS.

Lawyer Newell was scheduled for a conference with District Attorney Whitman this afternoon, when he was expected to reveal the whole inside of the Sipp bribery. It was stipulated that he must first plead guilty before Justice Seabury. Newell's counsel, former Judge W. M. K. O'Leary, informed Mr. Whitman that he was called to try to attend the funeral of former Gov. Black, and by consent the Newell conference was put over until tomorrow. Mr. Whitman had a long talk with Justice Seabury regarding suspension of sentence on Newell should the lawyer turn State's witness.

Patrolman John J. Hartigan, convicted of perjury in connection with the Sipp bribery, was also slated to see Mr. Whitman late this afternoon, for the last time before appearing before Justice Seabury tomorrow for sentence.

Office grew in the District Attorney's belief that the young policeman would go to prison rather than "squelch." In a talk last night with former Captain Waldo, Assistant District Attorney Groh informed information which positively clinched the case against Hartigan, who still shields former Inspector Sweeney. District Attorney Whitman has completed his investigation of various bribes raised to keep Sipp away from New York and to prevent Police Commissioner F. Fox, Waldo's collector, from talking. When Fox was arrested, Capt. Walsh paid $200 in cash to the surety company which furnished the policeman's bail. This money was later returned to Walsh. When Fox appeared on charges at Police Headquarters, Assistant District Attorney Louis Grant and Jacob Roush represented him. Fox has told the District Attorney he did not retain them, but Walsh has admitted he, Sweeney and former Inspectors Hussey and Thompson contributed to the fund of $200 paid to the attorneys as a retainer. On Dec. 25, $200 was turned over to Newell to bribe Sipp to remain away. This Fox got from his brother, James, and it later was returned to Fox by Walsh, Sweeney, Hussey and Thompson, according to the confessions of Walsh and Fox.

TWO OTHER BRIBE FUNDS RAISED, IT IS CLAIMED.

The second bribe fund of $200 given to Newell for Sipp came, Walsh has sworn, from Sweeney, Hussey and Thompson, who gave $200, while Walsh, who had paid the $200 for Fox's bond, was assessed for only $100. Of this $1,200 only $100 was given to Sipp, Newell admitting that he kept $200 for his fee. Before Fox went to trial it was agreed that if he was convicted his salary as a policeman would be paid to his wife during the entire time he was in prison. It was in connection with the raising of the money for this salary fund that the name of Captain (formerly Inspector) Mortha, then appears, Walsh has sworn that he, Sweeney, Hussey, Thompson and Mortha were to contribute $2,000 each to a fund of $10,000.

Policemen William Smith and Victor Meyer, formerly wardens in the First Inspection District, today pleaded not guilty to their indictment for bribery before Justice Seabury, who continued their bail of $5,000 each.

District Attorney Whitman today examined four suspected gamblers and one hotel proprietor, all believed to be payers of protection money. They were Eddie Waldron, proprietor of the Manhattan Casino at One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street and Eighth avenue, Jake Morris of Eighth avenue and One Hundred and twenty-sixth street, Jack Dunn of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Eighth avenue, and Peter Alteman of No. 60 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. All were subpoenaed before the Grand Jury on Thursday.

John Flannery, manager of the Hotel Van Twiller at No. 57 Lexington avenue, was summoned to Mr. Whitman's office; but it is said he refused to reveal protection secrets. He was subpoenaed for the Grand Jury.

NEW HAVEN MUST PAY FOR SMOKE NUISANCE.

Railroad Didn't Abate It as Counsel Promised, So Is Fined $500.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, after staying off punishment for nearly a year for maintaining a smoke nuisance, was today brought to book by Justice Russell, O'Keefe and Fleming in Special Sessions.

The company was brought into court last April charged with violating the sanitary code in permitting volumes of smoke to escape from the round house at East One Hundred and Thirty-second street and Brook avenue. The corporation pleaded guilty, but, in extenuation, asked that they be given a few months as they were electrifying the road. This work was completed, they said, the nuisance would be permanently abated.

The reprieve was granted in last November, since which time the corporation's counsel has appeared in court on several occasions and obtained extensions. They were in court again today to ask for another extension, but this time the corporation was opposed by Assistant Corporation Counsel Herman Stupel, in charge of the Board of Health's legal department. He declared that as late as last Friday smoke was coming from the locomotive and that it was a menace to the health of the people in the neighborhood. The railroad was fined $500.

VIRGINIA HARNED HAS BEEN MRS. COURTENAY MONTHS.

As Easter Dinner Surprise to Her Friends Actress Tells of Marriage.

Miss Virginia Harned has been Mrs. William Courtenay for several months, according to an announcement made last night at a dinner given in Miss Harned's home at Rye, N. Y. She formerly was Mrs. E. H. Sothorn, and was for several years Sothorn's leading woman.

Last night she entertained ten of her old friends at an Easter dinner, and when the last course had been served Mr. Courtenay announced the marriage, which was a complete surprise to everybody. Toasts were drunk to bride and bridegroom and congratulations were showered on Mr. Courtenay.

Later over the telephone he confirmed the report of the marriage, but declined to tell when and where it took place, except to say that they had been married several months.

The Governor also signed the bill of Senator Wagner providing that a school record employment certificate shall contain a statement that the child has completed the work prescribed for the first six years of a public, elementary or parochial school, and Senator Carswell, prohibiting the locating of routes for rapid transit railroads to certain streets and avenues in Brooklyn.

Health Restored by Eckman's Alternative

A Valuable Remedy for Throat and Lungs

If you are a sufferer from Glandular Tuberculosis, or know of any one so afflicted, it might be well to investigate this case, where the writer declares after a year of suffering he found permanent relief and full recovery to health by using Eckman's Alternative, a medicine which has been effective in many cases of Tuberculosis.

257 Lariston St., Phila., Pa. "Gentlemen:—In March, 1909, I was taken sick and my doctor pronounced my case 'Tuberculosis of the glands.' Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

In the mean time a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were also not less one day's work through sickness. I can highly recommend Eckman's Alternative to any one who is suffering from Tuberculosis or Gland trouble, providing they take it as directed. It will gladly recommend any party desiring further information of what the medicine is.

QUIT CALOMEL! Thousands Are Turning from This Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel except that there are none of the bad after effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago toward experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated olive-oil colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, they oil the bowels, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients, as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by every one, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box.

BRITISH M. P. HERE FOR A REST FROM THE SUFFRAGETTES

Militants Are An Awful Lot, Says Col. Jones of the House of Commons.

Col. Pryce Jones, M. P., arrived on the Carmania this morning nearly eight days out from Liverpool, and the Colonel was regarding the world through jaundiced eyes. The Carmania had a rough time—in fact she behaved like the militant suffragettes of London, from whom the Colonel had just escaped. Every day was a bad day, just as it had been in the House of Commons with the bally militants.

"The militants swarm into the House of Commons like flies and mosquitoes rising from a swamp," said the Colonel. "They promise to be good and all that if they are only let in. Their promises are like pie crusts. As soon as they get into the gallery the trouble begins and you can't get 'em out again. They chain themselves to the rail. How they get the chains in the Lord only knows. But there they are, you know, and the police can't dislodge them."

"They throw things down on top of the members—oh, all sorts of things, anything that comes handy. When they get out of mischief, then they begin to call names down at the members and shriek like demons. There is no way of cutting the chains and you can't keep them still. It seems absolutely impossible to keep them out, you know. I'm on my way to Canada for a rest. From the suffragettes! Well, partly, and I'm going to take a good rest."

Miss Lala Selbini, one of the "world's famous lady lion tamers," was another passenger on the Carmania. Lala sounds French and Selbini has the glimmer of the Italian, but the lion tamer is neither.

"My heart," she imparted to the reporter, "is called 'The Lion's Bride.' I had an owl lion I used to 'tug and kill on the stage, and half that. 'E was a eryte pet and 'e loved me. I could do anything with 'im, but one day 'e got jealous of my 'usband and got very huggy. Lal we 'ad to shoot 'im, or 'e believe 'e would 'ave torn me to bits."

"Now, I'll be over 'ere to get a young lion. There lots cheaper over 'ere, they towid me. Hand if I get a young one I can bring 'im hup me—self and learn 'im to love me."

Charles A. Pearce, a wealthy cotton spinner of Manchester, England, put a wallet containing ninety-five pounds under his pillow last night. The wallet was not there when Mr. Pearce awoke this morning. A gold sovereign, attached to his watch chain, had been snipped. Mr. Pearce had no money this morning for the payment of the customs duties, or tips to the stewards. He had to remain on the dock until he could communicate with his bankers.

Killed by Sleeping Powder. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 24.—

OLD AGE DEFERRED

Echo from the Medico-Legal Society.

A few generations back a man at 50 was considered old, gray-bearded, and waiting for death. Note the change to-day: at a meeting of the Medico-Legal society it was stated that a man of 60 ought to have forty good years ahead of him and thus at ninety be in the fullness of maturity.

What if you have been sixty, or even seventy, birthdays—temperate habits, fresh air and exercise, with a simple diet and a sufficient amount of sleep will guard your health.

If, perchance, your circulation is poor, if you become run down—weak and no appetite—nothing in the world will tone up those tired, back-sliding organs—enrich the blood and create strength so quickly as our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol.

We ask every feeble, discouraged old person in this vicinity to try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction.
